MIDDLEBURY CAMPUS

Mystery Hike Scheduled On Sunday for Mountain Club Climbing Excursion

VOL. XXXVI MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE, MIDDLEBURY, VT., OCTOBER 26, 1938 No. 6

Freshman President Is Elected

Yeamans, Maxwell, Young, Wood Chosen For 1942 Officials

Last night in Warner hemicycle the class of 1942 met and elected their class officers. The meeting was conducted by John Kirk '39, president of the Undegraduate association.

The following men were chosen as officers for the coming year: President, Edward H Yeomans; vice president, Robert S. Maxwell; secretary, John A. Young; and treasurer, A. Wilson Wood.

As in the past the system of preferential voting was used with fifteen men being nominated to begin the voting. When the field was narrowed down to four candidates, a straight ballot for president was cast among these four. Yeomans won the presidency over Wood 62 to 41. The position of the vice presidency went to Maxwell, who polled 60 votes to top his nearest opponent, Wood, who polled 37 votes. At this time the class expressed a unanimous opinion that Young should fill the secretary's position and Wood that of treasurer.

The new class president, Edward H. Yeomans attended Canton High school, Canton, Massachusetts and spent several years working before coming to Middlebury. In high school he was prominent in athletics and played football, hockey and baseball. He was a member of the student council and president of his freshman class. At Middlebury Yeomans, an end candidate, earned a starting berth on the frosh squad; but he was injured in the Union game and possibly will not start against Kimball Union Saturday.

Robert S. Maxwell, vice-president-elect, was also prominent in athletics at Monroe High school, Rochester, New York. He played basketball, soccer and tennis and was vice president of the student association. He is a member of the National Honor society.

Secretary-elect John A. Young is a graduate of Ithaca High school, Ithaca,

Outing Club's Hike Destination Secret

Trucks Will Leave Battell Cottage Sunday Morning For Unknown Objective

Mountain club enthusiasts will be treated, this coming Sunday, to the first mystery hike of the season. The destination of the hike will not be announced until Sunday morning, immediately before the trucks leave Battell cottage. Hikers are advised, however, to be prepared for a cool climate and rough hiking conditions.

Two trucks will leave Battell cottage at 8:45 Sunday morning, with those who have previously signed up on sheets provided on Warner Science bulletin board. Those who have signed up for the hike and who find that they will be unable to participate, are asked to get substitutes.

Mystery hikes held in previous years have always proven a great success. The members of the governing board are the only persons in possession of knowledge of the destination. Next Sunday's hike will offer fine opportunities for camera enthuiasts to work in connection with the snapshot contest announced several weeks ago.

Plans have been presented to the Student Life committee concerning the possibility of running a mixed day hike to Mount Mansfield in the Green mountain range near Waterbury, Vermont. Students on the Mountain club trip to Northfield last Saturday had a chance to see Mount Mansfield which was even then already capped with snow. This hike will be held within the next two weeks.

CARNIVAL CO-CHAIRMEN ANNOUNCE CHOICE FOR HEADS OF COMMITTEES

Robert F. Pickard '40 and Lois D. Gillette '40 have been appointed to head the Carnival Ball committee, according to an announcement by Porter H. Evans and Jean M. Sweeny '40 chairmen of the 1939 Winter Carnival.

George F. Lewin '40, and Doris E. Keffer '40 were chosen to have charge of the publicity committee, while M. Leland Johnson was appointed to head the winter sports committee in the men's college. Frances E. Cornwall '40 will superintend the committee on winter sports among the women.

Chairmen were named at an early date for these three committees in order that arrangements may be under way in these departments well before Chris mas.

Women's Rushing Starts Wednesday

Activities of Seven Groups To Be Closely Regulated Under Panhellenic Rules

Sorority rushing for the women's college will begin next Wednesday, November 2, with a tea in Pearsons Social hall given for the freshmen by the Panhellenic council. Rushing activities will follow in the next two weeks and will be concluded with pledging on November 20.

Besides the members of the Panhellenic council, there will be present at the tea five members of each group whose duty it is to acquaint the first year women with various phases of sorority activity. Expense sheets of each group will be made available at this time also and an explanation made of the customary preferential balloting.

The next two days, November 3 and 4, all sororities will have open-house from 4:00 to 5:30 when the freshmen are free to visit each group at its rooms or house and meet the members informally.

A change from the program of former years is found in the next event scheduled by the council. On Sunday, November 6, there will be an informal discussion held for the freshmen to allow them to inquire on further details concerning rushing. Two representatives of each group will be permitted to attend this meeting.

November 7, 9, 10 and 11 are the dates set for the first parties—each sorority being assigned a time by the Panhellenic council. A maximum of thirty freshmen may be invited to these affairs which are not to be longer than an hour and a half.

The second parties are to be held the following week on the 14th, 15th, 16th, and 17th, and the preferential lists of sororities are due at the office of Prof. Stephan A. Freeman on Thursday night.

WOMEN DEBATERS TO LEAVE FRIDAY ON TRIP TO KEENE AND SALEM

On Friday, Oct. 28, the women's debating team will make its first trip of the season when a group under the leadership of Perley C. Perkins, debating coach, leaves for contests with forensic groups from Keene Normal school and from Salem State Teachers college.

Middlebury will be represented in these encounters by Margaret Doubleday '39, Audrey H. Wouters '41, and Alice J. Austin '42. The topic of both meetings is : resolved, "that the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain"; this is the same subject as was uesd in the previous Bates debate. These times however, Middlebury will take the affirmative side; the contests are as usual non-decision.

The Keene encounter will take place at 10:00 on Friday morning, while the Salem meet will occur at 3:00 the same afternoon.

James M. Gifford '77, Midd Trustee, Dies In New York

Head of Law Firm Granted Honors by Columbia And Syracuse

James Meacham Gifford, a trustee of Middlebury College for thirty-eight years, died in New York city last Thursday after a short illness.

Born in Monkton, Vermont in 1856, Mr. Gifford took his A. B. degree from Middlebury in 1877. After teaching for five years, he was admitted to the bar in New York state in 1888. He then became an instructor in Columbia Law school and entered business in 1887.

He was the founder of the American Agricultural Chemical company and senior partner in the law firm of Gifford, Woody, Carter and Hays. He was also a director of many large New York firms. Syracuse honored him with with a master's degree in 1880, and he received his bachelor's degree in law from Columbia in 1883. Middlebury honored him the degree of doctor of law in 1897, and he was made a trustee of the college in 1890. As an undergraduate, Mr. Gifford was a member of Delta Upsilon and Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary society.

Student Council To Revise Constitution

Committee to Decide Form And Draw Up Report at Meeting Thursday Night

Tomorrow evening the Constitution committee of the Student council will meet to decide the form of the revised constitution for this organization. Following this meeting, the committee will report to the Student council for approval of their plan.

Aided by Professor Bogart, and John M. Kirk '39, chairman of the council, the committee, composed of Edward E. Palmer '39, chairman, Stanton E. Boardman '39, and William A. Onion '40, has been studying the constitutions of similar organizations of fifteen colleges. This committee has also investigated all of the problems of the present student government here.

The Student council, organized in 1918, was formed to regulate and supervise student voting and to enforce the traditions and customs of the college. Now it has discretionary supervision over all college organizations.

Last year, through the efforts of Milton K. Lins '38, then chairman of the board, an agreement of good fellowship and understanding was drawn up between this college and the University of Vermont.

Last year in the drastic re-organization of college activities which was instituted through the agency of the Student Life committee, the Student council gained additional powers, one of wihch was centralization under it of finances of demoted organizations.

Dr. John B. Fort to Speak At Vespers Next Sunday

Dr. John Brett Fort of St. Mark's church, Leominster, Mass., will speak to the students at vespers next Sunday.

He is a graduate of Boston university. For a time Dr. Fort served as director of the young people's work at the Norwood Congregational church in Newton, Mass. He then went to All Saints church in Worcester, Mass., where he was assistant rector. Now he holds the position of rector of St. Marks.

This is the first time that Dr. Fort has addressed the student body at Middlebury.

Interfraternity Council Selects Exemption List

Visiting Freshmen Allowed To Representatives Of Agencies

Selection of delegates to the National Interfraternity council and preparation of an exempt list of upperclassmen was the business transacted at a meeting of the Interfraternity council which took place at eight o'clock Monday evening in Warner hemicycle.

George F. Lewin '40 and Gordon A. Barrows '39 were chosen by the council to represent Middlebury at a gathering of the National Interfraternity council being held on November 25, 26, 27. This meeting will take place in the Commodore hotel in New York city. Its purpose will be to discuss both local and national fraternity problems. Example of the latter is the social security act, and how different fraternities fare under the various taxation systems in individual states.

At its meeting, the council also decided upon a group of underclassmen, who, because of laundry, magazine or newspaper agencies may be allowed to visit freshmen rooms for these business purposes. Otherwise, no other upperclassmen, with the exception of dormitory proctors, are permitted in the rooms of first year men. Those included on this exempt list are the following:

Class of '39—Frank E. Avery, Thor B. Gustafson, Edward E. Palmer, James A. Singiser, John S. VanDoren and Frederick A. Wheeler.

Class of '40—George R. Davis, George F. Lewin, Curtis F. McDowell, John M. Mahoney, William A. Onion, Adam W. Tupka, Patrick T. Vartuli, Eugene C. Winslow and Harold H. Brown.

RECORDED PROGRAM TO INCLUDE GOODMAN AND BUDAPEST QUARTET

Two Mozart numbers, one featuring Benny Goodman in conjunction with the Budapest String quartet, will be played during the Friday afternoon musicale at 4:45 p. m. in the Music studio.

"Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" and "The Quintette for Carinet and Strings" are the recorded numbers to be included on the program. The latter is the piece which presents B. Goodman, divorced from his famous swing orchestra and style and venturing into the medium of classical music.

Robert L. Zurbach, who is loaning the records to the music department for the program, will be in charge Friday afternoon.

Jan Campbell To Be Soph Hop Band

Fenton Brothers Replaced By Different Orchestra At Dance in November

Since the musical style of the Fenton Brothers band has changed completely, the music committee for the Soph hop, headed by Edgar R. Lawrence and Helen D. Rothery, have completed arrangements with Jan Campbell and his N.B.C. orchestra, which will play at the hop in place of the Fenton band.

The Fenton Brothers now feature the "Hotel" type of music with emphasis on the strings and the brass section omitted. The string section is under contract; and thus the band is unable to appear here as was previously announced. Accordingly, the switch was made to the Campbell unit which had already been under consideration.

Billed as "The Genial Gentleman of the South," Jan Campbell and his band have been featured on both the major networks. Among their recent engagements are included a fifteen week stay at the Club Paree in Hartford, Connecticut and shorter stands at the Greystone in Dayton, Ohio and the Totem Pole Ballroom in Boston, Mass.

Campbell's popularity with collegiate audiences is shown by the fact that he has recently played at Cornell university, Colgate university and Dartmouth college. He was also honored by being chosen as one of the fifteen band leaders throughout the United States who, each week, select the numbers for the "Lucky Strike Hit Parade."

According to advance notices, versatility is a keynote of the Campbell band. Doubles on various instruments and a trio of singers from the band itself are featured as well as a girl vocalist.

RALLY PLANNED IN GYM NIGHT BEFORE CONTEST WITH NUTMEGERS HERE

Blue Key announced today that there will be a football rally held next Friday evening before the game with Connecticut State college. Gordon A. Barrows '39 and George F. Lewin '40 will be in charge.

Contrary to the plans carried out so far this fall, this rally will be held in McCullough gymnasium at 7:15 p. m. Several speeches have been planned by the co-chairmen who hope to present some novel viewpoints about Saturday's game.

The college band will play; and Jim Singiser, Norm Atwood and Don Davis will lead the cheering. During the rally the Blue Key members wills continue their policy of selling programs the night before the game; however, programs will be sold at Porter Field as usual.

Middlebury Meets Hamilton Debaters

Leggett, Onion and Drew to Represent College Here In Mead Chapel Tuesday

Edward J. Drew, Glenn H. Leggett, and William A. Onion of the class of 1940 will represent Middlebury in the second debate of the year when Hamilton will meet the Panthers here on November 1.

The subject under discussion is, resolved: "that there has been an unjustifiable increase in the national debt burden under the Roosevelt administration". Middlebury will uphold the affirmative side of the question.

Two additions have been made to the Middlebury schedule. The University of Maine will send a team here on November 1 to take the negative side of the question, resolved: "that the United States should establish an alliance with Great Britian". J. Halford Gordon '40, and Marshall Cline '41 will represent Middlebury in this non-decision debate.

R. P. I. will encounter Middlebury here two days later, and will debate on the negative side of the subject, resolved: "that the federal government should cease to use public funds to regulate business". The speakers for Middlebury have not been chosen as yet.

Middlebury is carrying an eleven contest schedule this year. Seven more debates are still in the process of being arranged. Among the colleges that are being considered for further debates are Amherst, Colby, Columbia, Cornell, B. C., McGill, N. Y. U., Princeton, Puerto Rico, St. Johns, and Yale.

QUARANTINING IDEAS

The United States Department of State laid itself wide open for criticsm by every clear-thinking American when, on a technicality it denied John Strachey, internationally-known Communist, admittance to this country. Obviously, the real reason for the action was that those responsible did not want him to be heard by the American people.

Any discussion of the validity of Mr. Strachey's ideas is completely aside from the point. The very fact that he has been denied an opportunity to speak provokes a strong suspicion that there must be something in what he says. His books are already being widely circulated in America. The action of the State department will only serve to increase their sales and to lend more weight to the ideas expressed in them.

The admittance or non-admittance of John Strachey as an individual is relatively unimportant, since the unchallenged entrance to the country of Blas Roca, Cuban Communist, at the same time Strachey was on Ellis island proves that there are others to take his place. The incident, however, is of deep significance to every American student, whether he be still in school or an ordinary citizen, because it is the perfect illustration of that perennial curse of educational and political systems—the attempt to quarantine ideas.

The building of barricades against undesired ideas has been tried again and again in the history of the world, and every time the barriers have failed to hold back the tide. At the Congress of Vienna in 1815 the European powers tried to insure the status for all time. The subsequent revolutions which arose in Spain, Naples and other unrelated spots illustrated the impossibility of permanent suppression of mass movements.

In the American educational field the activities of such organizations as the old National Electric Light association are typical of widespread dissemination of propaganda and censorship of radical ideas. In this particular case a country-wide organization was maintained to see that the "right" people got elected to school boards, to provide newspapers with "proper" material and to furnish speakers to civic groups upon demand. Numerous cases are on record of censorship of school texts by this group.

Educational institutions have been none too receptive to unusual ideas. The famous Scopes "monkey" trial and the Massachusetts flag-saluting case are typical of such ultra-conservatism. The current investigation of un-American activities by the Dies committee has concerned itself considerably with Reds in American colleges and universities—and incidentally has given added strength to such communistic tendencies with every revelation.

The pertinent problem for American students is to gain a clear idea for themselves of what this thing called "Americanism" really is. We feel that it is the free, uninhibitd presentation of all facts and ideas, and deep trust in the ultimate ability of the average man to come to wise beliefs. If there are faulty conditions which make radical theories popular, a change in the conditions will correct the theories.

New York where he was a member of the football, hockey and golf teams. He was also a member of Congress, local honorary society. At Middlebury Young teams up with Yeomans at the right end post on the freshman football team.

A. Wilson Wood, new treasurer, is the only prep school man among the new officers. Wood, who makes his home in Shaker Heights, Ohio, attended Western Reserve academy. Active in football and track, Wood was a member of the natural history, astronomy, varsity and glee clubs.

Roland Hayes Will Present Program

Famed Negro Tenor to Be Here November 2, 3 for Concert, Informal Recital

Roland Hayes, American negro tenor of world-wide fame, is to visit Middlebury Wednesday and Thursday, November 2 and 3, and will give a formal concert in Mead chapel Wednesday at 8:15 p. m.

Mr. Hayes will give a recital at an informal tea in Forest recreation hall Thursday to which faculty and students are invited. That evening he will meet Professor Heinrichs' sophomore discussion groups, also in Forest recreation hall, at 8:00 p. m.

Mr. Hayes, once a Georgia farm boy, studied music during the long years that he worked as waiter, office boy and iron foundry helper in order to become a singer. He had lost his savings on other song recitals but his long study of voice and song interpretation was finally rewarded at a concert in Boston's Symphony Hall. Since that time Roland Hayes has reached the heights of musical fame and was summoned to give a "command performance" before the late King George V. of England.

As a singer Mr. Hayes leaves a strong impression on his audience because of his sincerity and devotion to the work he has struggled to continue.

BROWN AND PERKINS TO BE FACULTY ADVISORS OF CARNIVAL SKI MEET

A committee from the athletic council and plans for fencing were the order of business transacted at a meeting of the Athletic council held last Sunday morning.

Asked by William P. Hermann '39, who was present at the meeting as a representative of the Mountain club, to appoint a committee to advise the Mountain club in handling the invitation winter sports meet, the Athletic council complied. Director of Athletics Arthur M. Brown and Prof. Perley C. Voter were the members appointed to advise the handling of the ski meet.

It was also decided at this meeting to ask the newy formed fencing group to draw up a plan of organization. This plan, when complete, is to be submitted to the Athletic council.

DELEGATES SELECTED FOR ANNUAL MEETING

"Family Feeling" Is Vespers Theme

Prof. R. L. Davis Believes Expansion of Home Love Is Hope for World Peace

"We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren"—: John: III 14—was the text used by Prof. Robert Davis in his vespers address last Sunday.

"Translated into everyday English," Prof. Davis said, "We have come out of paganism because we love our fellow man." He then spoke of the fifth chapter of St. Mark as being a correlated text and remarked that there is enough in that chapter to reconstruct Christianity if the rest of the Bible were lost.

Human Family Revived

He briefly outlined the story of the chapter. "A man, a woman, and a child, a human family, came before Christ ailing in mind, spirit, and without life, and they were made whole." He admonished "Don't try to explain it. It was only that in some way the human family could by touching His hem touch the stream of vigor flowing from life itself." Then he continued telling the story that the people so miraculously cured wanted to stay with Him but Jesus bade them to return to the place they belonged, to try the new love but to stay in the family.

"The family is the essence of Christianity," Prof. Davis said and continued, "Christianity is to take the feeling we have towards those we love in the family and to expand it. You have the whole world as a possibility."

League Failure

He went on to point out the application of this doctrine to world peace and remarked about the failure of the League of Nations, "There was not family feeling but it was merely a league of nations." Prof. Davis does not believe world peace can be achieved until the family feeling includes the world, and in view of this he made a plea to the various youth movements to further this doctrine. He concluded, "If you could attain this family feeling you could attain things you never thought of before."

"Salvation is Created"

The combined choirs gave a rendition of "Salvation is Created", by the Russian composer Tschesnokoff. The number has an extremely low bass part and its moving, emotional rhythm is characteristic of the Russian school of that type.

Alumni Luncheon Given At Concord

New Hampshire Graduates Attend Annual Meeting Of Association, Thursday

Although only thirty had been expected, sixty-three alumni and alumnae of New Hampshire attended the first annual luncheon of the New Hampshire alumni association.

The luncheon, which was held at the Endicott hotel in Concord on Thursday, October 20, was arranged by Mr. Stephen A. Doody '11, headmaster of the Stevens High school of Claremont, New Hampshire, and Mrs. Bernice Munn Eastman '29 of Pittsfield. The speakers were President Paul D. Moody, Mr. Harry F. Lake '99, a lawyer of Concord, Miss Muriel Jones, Alumnae secretary, and E. J. Wiley, secretary of the Associated Alumni.

Color Movies Shown

E. Emerson "Bus" Waite '29 of the staff of New Hampton school led the group in singing Middlebury songs with Mrs. E. J. Wiley '12 furnishing the accompaniment. After this, the new color movies depicting various college scenes were shown.

The officers elected for the coming year are: president, Arthur T. Brush '29, advertising director of the Manchester Union-Leader, Manchester New Hampshire; vice-president, Carl D. Howard '30 of the Stevens High school faculty, Claremont, New Hampshire; secretary-treasurer, Isabel I. Esten '14, Dean of Women, State Normal school, Keene, New Hampshire.

Women's Debating Team Meets Bates Group Here

Yesterday, in their first debate of the season, the women's debating team, represented by Faith S. Wohnus '40, Carol E. Hubbard '41, and Ruth H. Packard '41, encountered a forensic group from Bates university. The contest, held last evening in Mead chapel, was a non-decision affair.

The subject of the meeting was: resolved, "that the United States should establish an alliance with Great Britain." The Middlebury group upheld the negative side. Miss Wohnus was the first speaker, Miss Packard presented the second argument, and Miss Hubbard delivered the rebuttal. The team was coached by Prof. Perley C. Perkins of the English department.

Cheap Boat Fares Planned For Youth

Dormitory Ships to Reduce Costs of Summer Travel To Europe for Students

A summer trip to Europe, designed for college students, is being planned for next summer by the American Youth Steamship line.

This trip is primarily intended for students who previously have been unable to afford the numerous expenses of such a voyage, since the round-trip fare will be $80.

The eight-day boat is especially fitted for such a trip, large dormitories replacing state-rooms, hammocks substituted for beds; the whole idea being to eliminate the air of exclusiveness, and replace it with congeniality and good fellowship.

The Youth Hostel movement will back the steamship company in this venture, providing experienced recreation leaders. These leaders will sponsor discussions, classes, travel talks, and language reviews for the group during the voyage. These classes are intended to give the youthful travelers a broader understanding of the customs of Europe.

On arriving, the group will visit many of the larger and more interesting cities of Europe, cycling through ancient villages, boating on historic lakes and picturesque canals, and climbing many of the scenic mountains.

In order to eliminate all unnecessary expenses, there are no paid agents for the trip, information being given by representatives in all colleges. The Middlebury representative is Robert W. Lord '39. Any further information concerning dates of departure, further expenses, or points to be visited may be obtained from him.

Editor Palmer Attempts Revised Saxonian Policy

Edward E. Palmer '39, editor of the Saxonion, has announced a revised system of management for the magazine, to go into effect immediately after the release of the issue to be circulated on November 1.

Under this new plan the profits of the Saxonion will be equally divided between the members of the board who do the greatest amount of work A merit system has been planned by Palmer, who, in this way, plans to judge accurately the work of the members of the board.

French Club Quota Reached Tuesday

Members of Three Lower Classes Are Elected into Foreign Language Body

Songs and games entertained the French club at a meeting in the Chateau Tuesday evening October eighteenth. The organization's quota is now complete, with twenty-eight new members elected at this time.

The following juniors have been chosen for membership: Ray H. Kiely, Senatro D. LaBella, Betsy W. Barber, Janet L. Buehn, Margaret E. Hull and Claire L. Lull.

Class of '41

The class of '41 is represented by Barbara R. Babcock, Barbara R. Baruzzi, Charlotte E. Gilbert, Mary J. Kiely, Claire Knowlson, Geraldyne A. Lynch, Mary C. Nelson, Barbara Wetzel, Eleanor A. Gillett, E. Barbara Lown and Margaret A. Montgomery.

Freshman applications for membership were so numerous that it was decided to admit only women from the Chateau. No applications can be accepted later in the year as there was only room for eleven freshmen. These include: Marjorie D. Buscher, Elma V. Boyer, Nina C. Camuti, Clarice L. Dionne, Helen S. Hooley, Patricia L. Kane, Dorothy M. Menard, Helen W. Miller, Marjorie J. Tomlinson, Leonie R. Vouto and Virginia W. Witte.

A play entitled "L'Innitiation" will be presented at the next meeting of the French club. This wil be an open meeting in November when guests will be welcome.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Holds Informal Smoker Sunday

Professors Walter T. Bogart and Waldo H. Heinrichs were the faculty leaders at a Sunday night smoker and "bull session" held by Sigma Phi Epsilon.

During the meeting, which lasted from 7:00 until 9:00 in the evening, a general discussion was held of the Czechoslovakian crisis, the Sino- Japanese war, the Mooney-Billings case, Vermont politics and assorted short subjects. Interest during the discussion of foreign affairs centered around the part America should play in world affairs today.

During the smoker cider and doughnuts were served.

Steinbeck Stories Read By Prof. Reginald Cook

Prof. Reginald L. Cook read two short stories from John Steinbeck's "The Long Valley" at the first Abernethy reading of the year last Friday.

In a short introductory talk Prof. Cook gave the background of the writings of Steinbeck. He explained that the author writes of the country about 150 miles south of San Francisco which is also the home of Robert Jeffers.

"White Quail", the first story read, is a symbolic narrative. The second story, "The Leader of the People" Prof. Cook said showed a different side of Steinbeck and brought the reader closer to the countryside and people of the region where much of his work is laid.

PRESIDENT P. D. MOODY TO VISIT HAMILTON AND LAFAYETTE THIS WEEK

President Paul D. Moody of Middlebury College has accepted an invitation will attend the inauguration of William Harold Cowley as president of Hamilton college in Clinton, New York next Saturday.

The new head of the New York school succeeds Frederick C. Ferry who retired from office last year. He is a graduate of Mount Hermon school and Dartmouth college.

After the inaugural, President Moody will go to Easton, Penna., where he will speak in chapel at Lafayette college on Sunday, October 30.

Students and Faculty Will Gather For Coffee After Saturday's Game

Another football coffee will be held in Forest recreation room after the game with Connecticut State college Saturday. Faculty and students are invited. The coffee is sponsored by Miss Adelma J. Hadley as social director of the women's college. Edward A. Romeo '39 will have charge of the entertainment.

The football coffee idea has become extremely popular on the campus, and Miss Hadley feels that they have a definite place in the college's social program which makes it worthwhile to continue them.

Fourteen Mountain Club Members Participate In First Overnight Hike

Party Finds Cover at Glen Ellen Saturday after Lincoln Climb

Last week-end the Mountain club held its first in a series of over-night hikes to surrounding mountain ranges. Fourteen members of the club participated in the hike leaving Battell cottage at 11:00 Saturday morning and arriving in Lincoln where the Long Trail meets the road, about 12:30 in the afternoon.

Upon arriving at the Long Trail the members unpacked their equipment from the two private cars and proceeded to climb the trail to Glen Ellen lodge farther up on Lincoln mountain. The climb took about two and one half hours, the group arriving at the lodge about 3 o'clock. After setting up camp the hikers inspected surrounding territory and took many pictures of the beautiful scenery.

Snow Peaks Seen

From this high vantage point the members were able to see the snow covered White Mts., the Adirondocks in New York state, Lake Champlain and many surrounding towns, and a small portion of Lake Dunmore. After an outdoor meal they retired to the lodge for the night. In the morning the group lead by Almy D. Coggeshall '39 broke camp and proceeded south to Battell shelter down the trail where they met the day group which left the college at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Those participating in the hike were: Almy D. Coggeshall '39, Charles L. Hanson, and Donald T. Spore of the class of 1940; Dan Armstrong and Raymond Unsworth of the class of 1941; Wilson F. Clark and Truman Thomas of the class of 1942.

The women taking the trip were: Helen Brewer '39, Frances M. Cady, Barbara M. Grow, Ruth H. Packard and Helen L. West of the class of 1941; Anne W. Curtis and Lois R. Grandy of the class of 1942. The group was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. John T. Andrews.

Meet Sunday Hikers

The Sunday hikers met the overnight group at Battell shelter on Lincoln mountain where they lunched together and after an afternoon of hiking returned to college on the Mountain club trucks.

Drama Production Committees Picked

"Room Service", Comedy Hit on Broadway, to Be Presented in November

Production committees for "Room Service", to be given by the drama department November 3 and 4 at the Playhouse, have been annuonced by Prof. V. Spencer Goodreds.

The play by John Murray and Allan Bortz is the first production of the drama department this year and has been a hit on Broadway as a George Abbott production. It is a story of the show business in New York and was rated by John Mason Brown as one of the funniest and best plays that George Abbott has produced.

Make-up for the Middlebury presentation is in the hands of the advanced class in play production under the direction of Warren Rohrer '39, Ann Mears '39, Betty Riexinger '39, and Dorothy E. Wing '39. Assisting the director on the prepartion of script is Norma E. Parsons '39.

The other committees are as follows: Costumes—Ruth E. Coleworthy '39 and Mildred R. Falkenbury '40; electricians and stage—Stanley J. More '40 and Rohrer; properties—Gretta E. English '39, Margaret B. Ray '39, Janet L. Buehn '40, Olive E. Jenne '40 and Ruth E. Thompson '40.

The curtain will rise on "Room Service at 8:15 for both performances and students will be admitted by season tickets.

Casting for the next play, "Accent on Youth" by Samson Raphaelson, which will be the Thanksgiving production, will begin soon and tryouts will be announced.

MARILYNN MANNING TO BE IN CHARGE OF W. A. A. CABIN RECENTLY BUILT

Marilynn Manning '39, has been put in charge of the new W. A. A. cabin near East Middlebury. Her assistants are D. Jane Acker '40, and Doris J. Lathrop '41.

The cabin is a story and a half high and is insulated so that it may be used in winter. There is a combination living room-dining room, a kitchen, a waxing room, and a bathroom on the first floor. On the second floor is one room and the rest of the space is partitioned off into men's and women's sleeping quarters. The cabin will accomodate twenty four.

A benefit bridge will be given by W. A. A. Saturday afternoon, November 5, in Forest recreation room. The proceeds from the party which is under the direction of Mary Louise Race '39, will be used to furnish the cabin.

Amerbach Volume Given To Library

"De Civitate Dei", Written In Fifteenth Century, Is a Gift of Arthur Tasheira

Arthur G. Tasheira has presented a specimen of incunabula printed by Johann Amerbach to the college library. The book, one printed with movable blocks in the first days of the use of this form of printing, will be on display in the recreational reading room this week.

"De Civitate Dei" by Augustinus is the first book of this type the college library has ever owned and is considered by Mr. Wyman W. Parker, the librarian, to be a very valuable acquisition. Red and blue coloring added by hand, is used for the capitalization in the work so that the appearance of the printed page somewhat resembles a monk's manuscript. This volume was completed on February 13, 1489.

In the front of the book is a block print depicting the two cities founded by Cain and Abel. This print shows the heavenly influences in the town of Abel and the influences of Satan in that of Cain with angels hovering over one city and devils with pitchforks inhabiting the other.

Johann Amerbach, the printer, learned his craft in Venice. He is regarded as one of the most productive as well as one of the most important of the early Basel printers according to an account in the British Museum's "Catalogue of Books Printed in the 15th Century". There are seventy works identified as his and in these he used no less than thirty-seven fonts or types of print. He continued printing until his death in 1513.

Mr. Tasheira, a resident of California, who gave the book to the library has also donated to the college a cottage in Shrewsbury. Pres. Paul D. Moody stayed there part of this summer.

Mrs. Alan Dignan Visits Local Chapter of KKG

Jeanette C. Olsen '39, president of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, annouced that Mrs. Alan Dignan of Toronto, Canada, has been visiting the Middlebury chapter in her capacity of province head. Mrs. Dignan, who has been staying at the Forest East guest room from Monday through today, came to observe sorority conduct.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Dignan was entertained at a luncheon at the Middlebury Inn given by the county alumnae; arrangements were made by Mrs. Reginald L. Cook. Tuesday evening, Mrs. Dignan sat at a table composed of Panhellenic members; at Wednesday noon in Forest East, she headed a "Kappa" table.

Mrs. Dignan granted interviews to those sorority members who so desired it on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

District President of Phi Mu Sorority Entertained

Miss Louise Moore of Winchester, Mass. has been visiting the members of the Phi Mu sorority for the past three days to inspect the sorority and to see if it is in all ways complying with the national ideal. Miss Moore is a former national scholarship director, and was elected district president at the national convention held in Ashville, N. C.

Plans for her entertainment included a tea Tuesday afternoon given by sorority members in their club rooms. Miss Moore also sat at the Panhellenic table Tuesday evening, as well as at a Phi Mu table in Forest West on Wednesday noon.

Miss Moore conferred with various sorority members on Tuesday and Wednesday morning, settling numerous local problems.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE PROGRAM BEGINS WITH TALK BY MISS JACKSON

Miss Florence Jackson will open the lecture season of the women's college by speaking on vocational guidance and having individual conferences on November 8, 9, and 10.

Miss Jackson spoke at Middlebury two years ago and, as an expert in the field, is qualified to speak on many different phases of vocational guidance. She will discuss different professions, opportunities for women, qualifications and background necessary for advancement.

During the past year the women's college has heard lectures by representatives of two business colleges and women in professions which included library work, social service, home economics, chemistry and merchandizing.

At the meeting of Student union tonight Miss Elizabeth Osborne will speak under the auspices of the social committee. Her subject will be personality.

Puppet Show Will Be Featured at German Club Meeting on Tuesday

The German club will meet in Pearsons social hall Tuesday, November 1 at 7:30. Werner Neuse, associate professor of German, will speak as an introduction to the puppet show which is to be presented as the main feature of the evening.

There are now approximately sixty members in the club.

Men's Debate Duo Meets Bates Team

Gordon, Leggett Represent Middlebury in Encounter For High School League

Middlebury's debating team opened its season last Friday at Lewiston, Maine when they met the Bates forsenic team in a non-decision contest. This encounter was part of the program held for the high schools in the Maine-New Hampshire league, under the auspices of Bates college.

J. Halford Gordon and Glenn H. Leggett of the class of 1940 represented Middlebury on the affirmative side of the question, resolved: "that the United States should establish an alliance with Great Britian." There were ten minute main speches and five minute rebuttal speeches for all speakers.

The debate was given before an audience of three hundred people, among which were many debating coaches from other colleges and schools. After the teams finished speaking an open forum from the floor was held for a half an hour. Students and coaches alike questioned the teams on points of the debate.

Although it is rather early in the year to gain much impression of the debating strength of Middlebury, Prof. Perley C. Perkins, coach of the team, was quite pleased with the showing that Gordon and Leggett made.

Oct. 25. . . . . the first cold night of the year. . . . . what a swell night to sleep, figures I. . . . . but your semi-genial columnist must go "to press"..... and the one thought which races through my mind faster than a ten second man is "We'll lose to Conn. State! They'll take us, so help me Hannah; like Grant took Richmond!... and then I fugure "So we've batted four or five to date; why stop now and throw the mangled pigskin to the Wolves. Let's keep the jolly ole thing and tie it by its aces beside the four '38 victory apples already garnered. . . . .

And, then I says to myself "How we gonna do it."? . . . . and then I thinks immediately, like another ten second man in the homestretch, "Spirit, that's what makes the winners repeat when the going is the toughest!" . . . . . Well, where's the spirit got to be? On the field with boys in numerals who toss around the hide of some unfortunate porker . . . . . And, where do they get their spirit from? . . . . . From an enthusiastic, exhuberant crowd who yell their fool heads off everytime the No. 2 back breaks loose.

And, how many will personally decapitate themselves with verbal enthsiasm Saturday p. m. in the wind swept gray bleachers of Porter field? How many yearlings and dignified almost-grads will find themselves talking in whispers to the evening's date, because they yelled their larnyx out the same afternoon?

On the technical basis of actualities, we could probably work out a percentage for those who would be unable to yell at their girls in the evening. But, that's not the question before the house. The point is that, practically speaking, a few shades below one hundred percent of those who take in the gridiron go with the Connecticut laddies ought to sound like a bunch of muted barn sparrows when the final whistle blows. An half a hundred heads should be yelled completely off so the boys on the chalkstripes will know in no little way that the gang is behind them.

It's easy to yell when a flashy quarter weaves and spins and tears loose from his own twenty. It's a cinch to cheer when some husky fullback plugs through the last two yards to a touchy. It's like rolling off a log to shout both loud and long when a fourth-quarter field goal sails over the crossbar. These things are a snap.

It's the lulls between scores when the club may plug for two yards and then lose three, when a fumble on their own thirty brings groans from the faithful and "I-told-you-so, you crazy-lug" from the Monday a. m. quarterbacks and the counterpane Field Generals that are the periods most desirous of verbal zingersnap from the bleachers gang. These are the times that 10c of spirit buys a $1.00 of action. And the whole gang in the tiers should squander their dime's worth like a spending tourist on a happy bender.

Friday night, the new and lively Blue Key are throwing a practice session for yells so that those whose vocal chords know how to function on Saturday p. m.'s can keep in the pink and those whose don't can learn how. They want the whole gang to turn out and give Saturday's spirit a snappy prelude.

We're still pointing for the Burlington Catamounts, but we can't point past Conn. State without bending our fingers. Something has got to be done about this Connecticut obstacle smack in the middle of the victory path. The club will do its utmost if we give 'em a hand. When you give 'em a hand Saturday, be sure that each hand is chuck full of spirit.

If, for no other reason than the memory of the poor porker that gave his hide for the club, yell your heads off in a figurative manner Saturday, and the boys in Blue may yank a first-class win out of the frying pan!

Yearling Team To Play Kimball Union

Panthers Travel to Meriden New Hampshire for Second Game

With only two more days before their encounter with Kimball Union academy at Meriden, New Hampshire, the freshman football squad is taking things easy. This is the second game of the yearlings' schedule, and the first year men are out to avenge the Union defeat, by taking K. U. A. into camp.

In the interval between the Union game which was played on October 8 and the K. U. A. game this Saturday, the freshman eleven has had the opportunity for contact work by scrimmaging with the varsity team. While the neophyte team has been unable to score on the regulars, they have shown that there is a lot of good material coming up for Coach Beck next year.

With the return of Gignac to the team, plus Shannon, Johnson, Clapper, Miller, Cosgrove and the triple threat Zydick available for the backfield, Coach Nash will be able to put four good men in there without much trouble. Captain Wishinski, and Dixie Davis will take care of the center spot. Greenbaum, Beach, and Buttolph will hold down the guard positions, while the tackles include Kedmenec, Ross, and Rendrick, the end positions have Young, Russell, Black and Sanford and possibly Ed Yeomans if his leg is perfectly well.

Saturday's Games Show Our Opponents' Strength

With four wins out of five starts, Middlebury is casting anxious eyes toward the three remaining games of the season. Conn. State, Colby and Vermont stand between the Panthers and a very good or very bad football year.

At Centennial field, Burlington, the University of Vermont shook loose Frankie Taylor, sophomore flash, and Bill Pye for three touchdowns and two extra points to crush the New Hampshire Wildcats 20-0. The Catamounts were able to gain at will through the New Hampshire line. They rolled up 230 yards from the line of scrimmage, while the Wildcats were able to pick up only 60. Out of four passes Vermont completed three, and intercepted four of the twenty passes New Hampshire threw.

At Lewiston, Maine, Bowdoin in the first defense game of the State title seesawed back and forth with Colby for sixty minutes and finally emerged victor 25-18. Colby scored in the first minutes of play only to let two Bowdoin scores erase the lead only a few minutes later. Two more tallies for Bowdoin in the second and third periods made the title holders look good, but then in the last period Colby heaved a 44 yard pass to score, and a few minutes before the final whistle threw another pass 36 yards into the arms of Daggett, in the end zone, for the final touchdown.

Conn. State rested last week, and will play the fifth game of their schedule when they meet the Panthers here Saturday.

Second-Half Drive Gives Eleven 9-0 Victory Over Norwich Team

Middlebury's football Panthers successfully opened their defense of the state football crown with a 9-0 win over a stubborn Cadet eleven at Sabine field last Saturday.

In winning their fourth straight game, the Beckmen capitalized on Norwich fumbles, Art Jaques' punting and place kicking and fast-charging defensive play. Held to a scoreless tie at the half, Middlebury opened the scoring near the middle of the third quarter. Lefty Tupka recovered a Norwich fumble on their twenty yard line; and, after three plays failed to gain, Art Jaques pulled out of the line and kicked a long field goal from the thirty-one yard line to put Middlebury out in front 3-0.

Early in the last quarter the Panther ground attack began to click. The tired Cadet line weakened and the Middlebury backs picked up four or five yards every down and carried the ball over from the thirty-five yard line. Mahoney went over tackle on a short buck for the touchdown. Jaques' attempt to convert the point was blocked by the Norwich line.

Jaques Punts

Again a holding penalty, this time on Middlebury, pushed the offense back, but Jaques punted to the Cadet thirty. After another exchange of punts, the quarter ended with Norwich holding the ball deep in their own territory. The Cadets opened the second quarter with a long pass from Stone to Barthel which was good for twenty-two yards and carried the ball into Midd territory. Tommy Stone, Norwich captain, picked up another first down carrying to the Middlebury thirty-five in three plays. Here the Panther line tightened and Stone punted out of bounds on the fifteen.

Jaques, kicking forced the Cadets back to their own fifteen and a tripping penalty set them back on their own goal line. Dedrick punted out to Mahoney who was downed on the thirty-five, and Middlebury had its first scoring opportunity. Two passes were incomplete and Norwich took possession on their own thirty-five. The Horsemen threatened just before the half ended. A Panther fumble was recovered by Norwich on the Midd forty-five. With Stone doing the tossing, Norwich started a complicated passing attack. They were awarded a first down on the Midd thirty-three on interference with the receiver, but three long passes were incomplete and the half ended with Middlebury having the ball on her own thirty.

Middlebury's best scoring chance came and was lost in the first minutes of the third period. Berry recovered a Norwich fumble on their fifteen yard line, but a holding penalty chased the Middmen back and Alfano intercepted a pass intended for Captain Kirk who brought him down on the seventeen yard line.

Immediately after this play, Tupka recovered the Cadet fumble that led to Jaques' field goal a few plays later. Alfano took the kickoff on his own fifteen and carried it back twenty-five yards before being nailed. On the first Norwich play a third fumble was recovered by Middlebury, this one again by Bud Berry . Jaques and Dedrick continued their punting duel with the ball winding up on the Cadet forty in their possession near the end of the period. On the second play Osthues, substitute back, ran twenty-two yards to the Midd thirty-eight; but as the last period began, Norwich was forced to punt.

Intercepted Pass

As the time grew shorter, Norwich began to pass in their own territory. Jack Johnson intercepted one of these passes meant for Kelly and was downed on the Norwich thirty-five. The Middlebury backs caried the ball over for the touchdown in eight plays to make the score 9-0. Norwich passed desparately and Johnson again intercepted and was downed this time on the thirty. The Midd backs were going for long gains through the tired Cadet line and seemed headed for another touchdown when the game ended.

Not much use was made of passing by the Panther offense, but the running attack clicked fairly well especially near the end of the game. As in the past the main strength of the team lay in the great defensive power of the line. Al Profy, Pat Vartuli and Captain Johnny Kirk hurried Norwich's kickers and passers all afternoon while Jack Stabile, backing up the line cut down anything that came in his way either on the ground or in the air.

Connecticut State To Meet Local Eleven At Porter Field Saturday

Opponents' Record Shows Strong Team, with 2 Wins, 1 Defeat

Saturday afternoon the Panther gridmen will encounter strong opposition when they meet the Connecticut State college team on Porter Field at 2 o'clock. Both teams are in the peak of condition and all indications point toward a very good game with either team having an equal chance to win.

Middlebury should be at its heighth for Saturday's contest with but few minor injuries received in last week's battle against Norwich. It is expected that King, Bertuzzi and Carr will report for practice this week having fully recovered from their injuries received in early season games. However these men will see little service in Saturday's game as several days are needed to get the men in the best physical condition for the remaining games on the schedule.

Same Line-Up

The line-up for Saturday's game will be the same as that which started against the Cadets last Saturday. Berry and Kirk at ends; Profy and Murray at tackles; Vartuli and Jaques in the guard positions and Stabile at center. In the backfield Mahoney will be calling signals at quarterback, with Tupka and Johnson in the wingback positions, and Mayo taking over the fullback assignment.

Connecticut State apparently losing little from graduation has a very powerful aggregation and comes here with two wins and one defeat on the records. The downstaters were idle last week-end having an open date and as a result of this layoff will be raring to go at the whistle Saturday afternoon. The team is big, heavy and well coached and are in the habit of playing a very rugged type of ball having a hard well balanced schedule yearly.

Opponents Record

So far this season the Conn. State gridsters have been successful in pounding out a 13-6 win over a strong Wesleyan aggregation, the game being nip and tuck throughout, the outcome not being certain until the final whistle. The next win for the downstaters came at the hands of Mass. State. This time the Connecticut men had it a little easier winning by a score of 19-0, the Mass. Staters taking it on the chin. However the Wolves were not as successful against Maine. The powerful Maine team decended upon the Connecticut gridsters and took them for a 13-0 ride. All in all with two wins, one defeat and a two weeks layoff Conn. State is ready for anything.

Frosh Time Trials Give Hopes for Vt. Aggie Meet

Freshmen cross-country time trials were held last week, with Goodell placing first, running the course in 20:07.

Holdredge was second with a time of 20:34, while Stanlis, Stan Johnson, Schlieder, Dave Smith, Ricker, Dwight Smith, Reddert, and Bates finished in the above order.

The first six frosh finished in time better than run by any freshman last year. This, according to Coach Brown, points to a strong varsity next year.

The first frosh contest will be held here this Friday when the Midd team will meet a Vermont Agricultural college team, from Randolph. Very little is known about this team, since this is their first contest of the season.

Harriers Lose To Williams Runners

Cross-Country Team Bows 26½-28½; Tie for First Place

Coach Brown's runners dropped their second meet Saturday, being defeated by the Williams harriers, 26 1-2 -23 1-2, in a contest held on the Williamstown course.

Paul Cushman, Midd mainstay, tied Kiliani, of Williams, after a stirring fifteen yard spurt, to finish in the time of 22:054. Kiliani last week broke the record of the Union course, running the distance in 25:00.

Robert Cushman was third, with the time of 22:15, followed by Griffith, of Williams. Wells (W), Reynolds (W), and Gilman (W), and Mercure, of Middlebury, took the next four places.

The Williams five-mile course, much of which is over the local golf course, was in excellent condition and well suited to the Midd runners, since it is so similar to the home track.

Intramurals

Golf

Intramural team golf advanced to the final round with DKE and CP emerging as victors so far in the tourney. CP last week defeated KDR, and DKE eliminated DU.

Number one men to play off in the finals will be Cobb vs. Mahar. Number two men will be Diefendorf playing Reichert, while number three men will be Wolcott and Butler. All matches in the final round must be played on or before October 29. Third and fourth places shall be determined by a playoff between the losers in the semi finals.

Volley Ball

Volley ball practice sessions will be held throughout this week, October 23 through October 27, in preparation for a strenuous schedule which will extend over a period of the next four weeks. The games as scheduled begin October 31 at 3:30, with ASP playing SPE, and BK playing the neutrals. At 4:15 CP meets KDR and DKE plays DU. Everyone with the exception of freshmen is eligible to play in the volley ball tournament.

Football

DU emerged as victor of the touch football championship when it defeated DKE last Wednesday to the tune of 12-0. Since this was the final and deciding game of the tourney, periods were lengthened to allow the completion of twenty plays during each. The game was hotly contested throughout, with DU scoring first in the second period. DKE never was able to regain this lead, and the final DU score in the fourth period put a decisive victory in the hands of that fraternity.

Second place was awarded to DKE, while CP and ASP played off previously to put the former in third place with ASP following in fourth position.

Grindmen To Run Here On Saturday

Rensselaer Weak Through Loss of Veterans by Graduation

Middlebury's varsity cross country team engages in its first home meet of the season when it competes with runners from R. P. I. this Saturday over the four and half mile course. Due to the fact that the Panther harrier squad showed much improvement in the last meet, and that the R. P. I. men are unknown quantities, this contest should prove to be an interesting one.

In the meet at Williams, slight Paul Cushman tied the top Williams man, Kiliani, for first honors. This was a decided improvement over his fourth place finish in the Union meet the week before. Thus he will bear close watching this weekend. Captain Bob Cushman, one of the most consistent runners on the squad finished third in last week's meet, and also deserves to be watched. Also sure to finish among the first few will be tow-headed Bob Reynolds, who has come along well this season.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE DISSOLVES SHORT-LIVED NEUTRAL MEN'S CLUB

Dissolution of the College club was the chief business transacted at a meeting of the neutral men held Monday evening in Warner hemicycle.

By consent of the executive council of this now defunct neutral organization, the College club no longer exists. The council, consisting of Joseph I. C. Clarke '41, John W. Holt '41 and Lucien E. Lyons '41 made this decision at Monday's animated session. Reasons for the change were given by Holt and include the following; (1) the various neutral men had no definite eating place, many boarding at different places, (2) the smaller freshman class will contain fewer neutrals this year than last, and consequently there will be fewer men from whom to choose.

James A. Turley '41 presented a plan for a cooperative eating and sleeping house for the neutral men, while Holt introduced a plan for boarding and rooming at the Middlebury Inn. No action was taken on either of these plans.

There were twenty-eight neutral men present at this last meeing of the former College club.

THERE'S NO POINT IN LETTING NERVES GET FRAYED!

COCKER SPANIEL

Spanyell family dates back to 1386. Cocker is smallest of family. A very popular pure-bred dog in U. S. Standard colors range from solid blacks, reds, to shades of cream; liver red and combinations. Versatile, can be trained into retriever. Great lover of human family.

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST

...AND SO IS HE

HAVE you noticed how a dog, in the midst of play, suddenly stops and rests? His nerve system—as complicated and high-strung as our own—has signalled that it's time to relax! Man, unfortunately, is less sensitive to the warnings of his nerves. Though nerves may need a restful pause, we are inclined to press on in our absorbing tasks—relentlessly—forgetful of mounting nerve strain. When we find ourselves tense, irritable, upset, we may not even realize why. Don't let tension tie your nerves in a knot. Make it your pleasant rule to break nerve tension often through the day—TO LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Feel how gratefully nerves welcome the mellow intermission that your nearby package of Camels suggests. And not only do smokers find Camel's costlier tobaccos soothing to the nerves—but milder, too—ripe-rich in flavor—completely enjoyable from every angle!

Millions of people who live happily

LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL

FLAGSHIP PILOT, Captain Walter J. Hunter of American Airlines, speaks for his profession when he says: "Ragged nerves and flying don't mix. I head off nerve tension by giving my nerves regular rests—I let up and light up a Camel. I find Camels soothing to the nerves."

DID YOU KNOW:

—that the grower of tobacco also cures it—in many cases, in barns equipped to apply heat without smoke? That the planter works day and night until the curing process is completed? Selection of Camel's tobaccos requires the services of men familiar with every phase of growing, curing, and aging choice tobacco. It is well known in the tobacco trade that Camel cigarettes are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

"RUSH ASSIGNMENTS, deadlines, phone calls would wreck my nerves," says New York newspaper woman Estelle Karon, "if I didn't pause frequently. I let up often—light up a Camel. Camels soothe my nerves. I work better—get more fun."

How Footballs Are Made
They're Not Pigskins

Yes, the sportswriters and football fans are all wrong! The covering of the balls used in the grid-iron game are made of grain cowhide — and here's an interesting picture-story of the most essential processes in their manufacture.
Acme

First, panels (four to each ball) are cut from the tanned leather.

Then the panels are stitched together with the lockstitch machine.

After many finishing stages are completed, bladders are inserted.

And finally, inspectors check each ball for size and perfection.
